

The peculiar weather of late, the hot sunshine alternating with steaming showers, has had the effect of producing more sickness throughout the State than usual at this period of the year. In Louisville the mortality report for last week shows 93 deaths against 3 for the corresponding week last year, being an increase of seventy-five per cent. The mortality among children is especially noticeable. In Henderson, Owensboro, and other points, a similar condition exists; while in our own city there has been more sickness especially among children, than we have known for a great while, the tendency to cholera infantum of a dangerous type being very marked. The physicians ascribe this to the relaxing influence of the weather, and recommend parents to be very cautious how children are exposed to the mid-day sun, and advise great care in the diet of old as well as young, avoiding unripe fruit or stale vegetables.

The Democracy of the Twelfth District, composed of the counties of Logan, Todd, and Simpson, have nominated Hon. W. W. Frazer, of Todd, for Senator, to succeed Hon. A. C. Vallandigham. Judge Frazer has been the Representative from the county of Todd in the lower house for the past two years, and his promotion is a compliment from his constituency of which he may well be proud. In the Senate as in the House he will make a vigilant and attentive member.

The Big Sandy Railroad.—The Big Sandy Herald says that, on Monday last, a suit was made by Gen. J. C. Breckinridge before the county court of Boyd county, Judge J. D. Ross presiding, and an order entered directing the officers heretofore appointed to conduct the August election for Boyd county to open a poll at the respective voting places in said county on the 31st day of this month, to take the sense of the qualified voters upon the proposition to subscribe one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to the capital stock of the Elizabethtown, Lexington, and Big Sandy Railroad.

Several of our friends who attended the annual meeting of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar, in their late meeting at Mount Sterling, speak in high terms of the unbounded hospitality displayed by the citizens of that place. In addition to the private entertainment which was extended on every hand, an elegant banquet was given to the Knights, which passed off most agreeably. The next grand annual convocation, we observe, will be held in Frankfort, on the second Wednesday in July, 1872 when we shall have to see to it that the good name of our city does not suffer in comparison with the warm courtesies so graciously extended by our neighbors.

In saying in our last that beef was selling hereabouts at from three to five cents per pound, some persons understood us to give that as the price of dressed beef. We meant beef cattle, the reports from all the cattle counties showing that the finest bullocks for the New York market are being bought for five cents gross. The question which consumers are interested in, is, if that is the price of beef gross, why they have to pay fifteen cents per pound for their roasts and steaks?

On Saturday morning, as Col. A. H. Rennie was dressing, he was seized with vertigo or fainted, and fell forward upon the floor, cutting several severe gashes upon his head on a washstand. When found a few moments after he was insensible and bleeding profusely. At his advanced age such a shock to his system was regarded with apprehension by his friends, but, we are glad to know, that he was doing well yesterday, with the prospect of soon being out again.

ACCIDENT.—As Mr. Alfred Real, of this county, was about to get out of a spring wagon in South Frankfort yesterday, the horse started just as he had risen on his feet, and he was thrown violently backward upon the ground, receiving a severe cut on his head and straining his back painfully.

BASE BALL.—There will be a match game of base ball to-morrow afternoon on the grounds in South Frankfort between the first nine of the Valley, who will be out in full uniform for the first time this season, and a picked nine of the town. The game will be closely contested and well played. The ladies are specially invited.

We have had the pleasure of meeting Prof. M. H. Smith, of Maysville, who is spending a few days in the city with his friend, Maj. H. T. Stanton. Prof. Smith is now the present Eminent Grand Commander of Knights Templar of the State of Kentucky.

RAILROAD MONOPOLY.—The Pennsylvania Central Railroad has leased, for a term of 99 years, the Indianapolis and Jeffersonville and the Jeffersonville and Madison Railroads, thus giving them the monopoly of the routes leading to the great oride at Louisville. Its next step probably will be to get control of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

AN OLD VETERAN GONE.—Wm C. Berry, an old soldier of 1812, died a few days ago in Clark county, Ky., in the 82d year of his age. He was a private of Capt. John Mason's company from that county, and was in the bloody engagement at the battle of the River Raisin.

The fences and other places devoted to such uses were made brilliant yesterday with the show-bills of the European circus, which will exhibit here on the 29th inst.

The Hopkinsville New Era says, that the fires of the Democracy, which have been smouldering in that county so long, are being rapidly rekindled.

Col. C. H. Blakely has been nominated by the Democracy of Logan as their candidate for the Legislature.

LONGFELLOW-HIS GREAT RACE—THE FASTEST TIME ON RECORD.

In our last we announced that Longfellow—not the poet, but John Harper's four year old, son of Lexington—had astounded the world by winning the Saratoga Cup, a 2½ mile dash, in the astonishing time of 1:02½. The report by telegraph proved true, though now comes another report, which it will take a day or two to decide, which is, that Longfellow has been sold to an Englishman for the sum of $100,000, a nice, snug pile for a poor man man like Harper, who is not worth more than twice that sum already, and doesn't look like he worth a cent. The following is the account of the race at Saratoga, from the World of Saturday:

THE SARATOGA CUP.
The second race was the great event of the season being a contest for the Saratoga Cup, for all ages; $50 entrance fee; play or pay; $1,000 added; distance, two and a quarter miles. There were twelve entries for the cup, but the great reputation of John Harper's Lexington horse, Longfellow, and August Belmont's Lexington colt, Kingfisher, deterred all the others from starting. The odds were in favor of Longfellow at about two to one before the start, and increased rapidly throughout the race, $100 to $8 being freely offered for Longfellow when he was struck into the lead by the start of the last mile. The time was remarkably fast, the first mile being run in 1:40. The start was made from the three-quarter pole at the head of the stretch. Longfellow had a little the best of it in the start and led down the stretch at a slashing pace. As the flyers dashed past the stand Longfellow had opened a gap of three lengths on his competitor, but did not seem disposed to delay any on that account, but ran as if for his life. For the next mile the two ran as if Kingfisher were Longfellow's shadow, his lighter color helping to complete the illusion. As they approached the stand the second time Longfellow increased his pace a trifle and left his shadow six lengths in the rear. Going from the quarter to the half-mile pole Kingfisher picked up a little, and reduced the lead to four lengths. At the turn in the home-stretch for the last time Longfellow was leading six good lengths again, and came down to the stand under a pull, with swim looking back over his shoulder and regulating the pace of the great Lexington by the movements of his rider. Kingfisher followed led across the score by three lengths. Kingfisher made a splendid display of speed in the first line, and gave great satisfaction to Mr. Belmont, who expected him to be beaten by a hundred yards or more. As may readily be supposed the Kentuckians were in high glee again today, and that gentlemanly old veteran of the war, John Harper, almost reared his youth. The time made in the first mile was intended to be kept a secret, so the readers of the following figures are respectfully requested not to tell anybody: First mile, time, 1:40; time of race, 4:02½.

Same Day—Second Race.—The Saratoga Cup for all ages; $50 entrance, p. p. $1,000 added by the association; closed with twelve nominations; net value of the stake, $1,600. Dash, two and a quarter miles.

The official report of proceedings in the Convention of State Insurance Commissioners, recently held at New York City, has been laid upon our table. It is a neatly bound volume, containing about 200 pages, and a cursory reading satisfies us that it contains a large amount of valuable information from the highest authorities in the insurance business. We refer particularly to communications and statements made by experts to the committee on valuations, &c. The following extracts are from a letter addressed to the committee by the distinguished president of the New York Mutual Life, the oldest insurance company in the United States, and it is believed, the largest in the world:

New York, June 10, 1871.
Hon. Gustavus W. Smith, Chairman Committee on Rate of Mortality, Interest, Valuation, Premiums, &c.
DEAR SIR: I avail myself of your courteous request to prepare a communication on some of the very important points referred to by the committee. Most of these are fundamental, forming the basis upon which life insurance rests.
But the questions most vitally important are those now before your committee, and on which you are to report in October to the Convention for final action. Correct mortality rates of insurance, ample reserves to cover all contingencies, and sound and reliable assets always available, out of which to pay obligations which life insurance rests. Lacking either, a company will sooner or later fail. The business of life insurance is now on trial before the American public, and its verdict will greatly depend on the course marked out for it by your convention.
Believing that your labors and influence, and that of your associates in the Convention, will be to throw around this most sacred of all pecuniary trusts held for the widow and the orphan, the protection of sound principles, wise laws, and prudent and economical administration, I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
F. J. WINSTON.
Pres. Mutual Life Ins. Co., of New York.

To the committee, of which Gen. Smith is Chairman, the Convention also referred for report in October the important questions forming the basis upon which the business of life insurance rests. We will take occasion hereafter to refer to other communications made to this committee and Convention.

By a letter from Monticello we learn that the debate there between Gov. Leslie and Gen. Harlan was largely attended, and that Governor Leslie gave entire satisfaction to his friends.

The Danville Advocate says that Gen. Fry, acting on the principle that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, has abandoned the canvass for Treasurer and assumed the duties of Supervisor of Internal Revenue.

The Central Kentucky Medical Association will hold its next meeting at Harrodsburg, on Wednesday, July 19th, at 10 o'clock, A. M., in the office of Dr. P. C. Fry. The debate will be opened by Dr. S. P. Craig, of Stanford.

The Kentucky People urges the revival of Harrodsburg Springs as a summer resort.

KNIGHTS' TEMPLAR.—The annual convocation of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Kentucky was held in Mt. Sterling on the 12th and 13th insts. All the Commanderies were represented with one exception. The meeting was characterized by great harmony and good feeling, and nothing of an unpleasant character occurred to mar the general enjoyment.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
R. E. Sir M. H. Smith, of Maysville, Gr. Commander.
V. E. Sir Wm. H. Warren, of Lexington, D. Gr. Com.
E. Sir Henry Bostwick, of Covington, Gr. Gen.

E. Sir H. M. Lewis, of Newport, Gr. Swd. R.
E. Sir A. H. Gardner, of Louisville, Gr. Warden.
E. Sir Daniel Epperson, of Frankfort, Gr. C. G.
ACQUITTAL OF DR. CARRICO.—The trial of J. W. Carrico, says the Louisville Ledger, for the killing of J. D. Smith, came to an end on Thursday in the Nelson circuit court, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. The trial occupied the time of the court for six days. It will be remembered that a former verdict in this case, was set aside by the Court of Appeals in June, 1870, when Judge Robertson delivered the opinion that has been so often criticised for its doctrines as to the law of self-defense.

THE DONNELLAN CASE.—The Bourbon circuit court adjourned last Wednesday. Jno. Donnellan's case was continued, and his bail fixed at $2,500.
The Ohio river opposite Wheeling is so low that the boating business is almost entirely suspended. There are but two feet at the shoalest places.

Another Borgia.
BALTIMORE, July 15.—In the criminal court of Baltimore today, Judge Gilmore presiding, the grand jury came in with two presentments against Mrs. Elizabeth G. Wharton: first for feloniously, wilfully, and with malice aforethought, killing and murdering Gen. Wm. Scott Ketchum, of the United States army, by administering tartar emetic, or some other poisonous drug, on or about the 28th of June, 1871. The second presentment was for attempting to kill and murder Eugene Van Ness, by administering poison, about the same time.

There were eighteen witnesses before the grand jury, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Van Ness, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snowden Dr. P. C. Williams, Dr. S. C. Clegg, General W. B. Wrice, paymaster general United States army, and Dr. Aiken, professor of chemistry in the University of Baltimore. The grand jury was composed of some of the most influential citizens of Baltimore, one of the members being a prominent State Senator. As the case is not suitable, the sheriff will take Mrs. Wharton into custody this afternoon. The case causes intense interest.

ARREST OF MRS. WHARTON.
BALTIMORE, July 15.—The intelligence of the presentment by the grand jury was communicated to Mrs. Wharton by Counsel Shortly. Soon thereafter, Sheriff Albert, accompanied by Marshal Gray and Deputy Marshal Fry, in two carriages, arrived at the residence of Mrs. Wharton at twenty minutes to 1 o'clock. Mrs. Wharton and daughter, with Mrs. Crawford and Sheriff Albert, took a carriage and were driven to the city jail. Mrs. Wharton and daughter were deeply veiled. Mrs. Wharton was then handed to the warden of the jail. She selected an empty cell, which she is permitted to furnish in the plainest manner, and her daughter allowed the privilege of remaining with her during the evening. The case has shocked the entire community, and the deepest sympathy is manifested for the unfortunate woman.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN MENIFEE.
At a meeting of the Democracy of Menifee county, held in Frenchburg, on Monday, July 23, 1871, pursuant to a call of the Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, J. M. Oliver was chosen Chairman, and I. M. Vauarsdell, Secretary.

On motion, J. C. Lyons, R. E. Frisby, John Hon, and Thomas Greenawade, were appointed a committee on resolutions, who reported the following, which were adopted:
Resolved, That we endorse the action and platform of the Democratic State Convention of May 23, 1871, and that we pledge our earnest support to the ticket nominated.
Resolved, That we recommend R. F. Day, O. P. Wells, John Hon, Preston Darousset, and Thomas Greenawade as members of the Democratic County Committee for the ensuing year.

Resolved, That we recommend that a Convention, composed of the counties of Bath and Menifee, be called, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate for the next Legislature, and that we cordially ask the Democrats of Bath county to unite with us in the same, and that said Convention be held at Mud Lick Springs, on the 15th day of July, 1871, and that all Democrats in Menifee county are appointed delegates to said Convention, should one be called.

On motion, it was further
Resolved, That Hon. A. W. Bascom be declared the choice of the Democratic party of Menifee county for the next Legislature.
On motion,
Resolved, That the Owingville Inquirer, Kentucky Sentinel and Kentucky Yeoman, be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

The meeting then adjourned.
J. M. OLIVER, Chairman.
I. M. VANARSDELL, Secretary.

Dr. J. A. Clopton, of Huntsville, Ala., may be consulted in Frankfort on the 19th and 20th of July. He treats, with perfect success, Piles, Fistula, Strictures, Tumors, Wens, Polypus, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, &c. See a letter from Dr. Blades. Piles cured without the knife.

Dr. Clopton:
Sir: Allow me to express the emotions of gratitude I feel since the successful operation you performed on me. For fifteen years I suffered with that dreadful disease for which, in vain, I sought relief. My professional brethren all advised me against a surgical operation. It is, therefore, with feelings of great pleasure that I give my testimony to the dispatch and skill with which you operated, and the perfect success attending it. And permit me to say to those suffering with hemorrhoidal affections, suffer no longer, as I am satisfied your method of operating is the perfect one, and surgical science, and that the pain of the operation, is nothing compared with that of an inflamed condition of the parts. It is with pleasure I now recommend you to the community you are now visiting, as a surgeon, worthy of their highest confidence. Truly yours,
JOHN A. BLADES, M. D.

THE TRI-WEEKLY YEOMAN.

Some Facts about Intemperance.

The State Board of Health of Massachusetts have embodied in their second annual report some curious facts about intemperance. It seems that drunkenness has been greatly on the increase in France for some time past, and has been productive of much crime and suffering. Doubtless many of the men who are now being committed in Paris, are due to the demon of wine, or some more powerful alcoholic stimulant. Yet drinking does not always seem to produce intemperance; for in Italy every man drinks wine, and some take brandy, rum and beer, yet intemperance is not a prominent evil there. So in Athens, Greece, a city of some 50,000 inhabitants, only 42 deaths from intemperance have occurred in 10 years. In Switzerland they drink beer and wine without evil effects, though the schnapps and potato brandy, the peasant's drink often get them into trouble. At Bremen, too, wine and beer are used in unlimited quantities without evil effects, but in Cologne, 75 per cent. of the crime is traceable to hard drink. In 1868, in Ireland, 76,000 persons were arrested for drunkenness, and the cost of the domestic and foreign spirits consumed was over $37.50 for every family. In 1869, nearly nine hundred million of gallons of beer and ale were consumed in England and Scotland, besides fifteen million gallons of foreign wine and thirty million gallons of spirits. This immense consumption of liquor produces three fourths of the crime in those countries.

The constant increase of crimes committed under the influence of liquor has led to the introduction of a new licensing law in England, with a view of restricting the sale of liquor by reducing the number of public houses, which now average one to every 182 persons—to say nothing of the wholesale stores, or those where liquor is sold not in bottles but on the premises. There is quite an extensive total abstinence party in Great Britain, but the most it has ever attempted, in the way of legislation, was to try to have a law passed granting to a certain majority of the tax-payers of a community power to prohibit the sale of liquor within its limits. In the course of the debate on this licensing bill, reference was made to the law adopted at Warrington, where the Government owns all the liquor stores, placing them in charge of a Government officer. It is made the interest of this official to sell as little liquor and as much coffee and tea as possible, since he is allowed a per centage on all sales of these milder beverages. Such a plan would hardly work well, either in this country or in England; but it is said to be a valuable auxiliary in promoting sobriety among the Warringtoners.

It is noteworthy in this connection, that at a recent meeting of the superintendents and directors of the inebriate asylums, held in Philadelphia, an association was formed for the cure of inebriates. In the declaration of the principles of this association, it was set forth that "intemperance is a disease, curable in the same manner as the other diseases of the body," and that "every large city should have its local or temporary home for inebriates, and that the law should recognize intemperance as a disease."

This view of the case seems to be gaining ground with the public; but it will take many years to work it out in all its practical bearings. Inebriate homes are certainly springing up all over the country, and many who enter them as patients are retained as officers and managers, or become connected with similar reformatory institutions. It is also a significant fact, that a bill has been introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature, proposing to grant permission to persons to record before a magistrate a pledge to abstain from drinking intoxicating liquors, and punishing a breach of the pledge so recorded by imprisonment. The plan of treating inebriates as diseased persons at once raises them from the condition of abandoned wretches, and entitles them to the same consideration we extend to the insane. It would seem, therefore, that while intemperance is still the cause of more than half of the crimes committed in the world, the unfortunate who have acquired a taste for intoxicating drink have a better chance for reformation now than ever before, which is a gratifying and decided step in advance.

The Boy of the Period.

Everybody has seen the boy of the period! His face hangs on the show-board in front of the photographers. He is on exhibition for awhile every fair evening on the corners of conspicuous streets. He is carefully and exquisitely dressed, wears delicate kids; twirls a light stick; pulls a fragrant cigar; eyes every young lady that may chance to pass, and gives his opinion of her at once while her cars are in reach. Having finished his street performance, he lounges into a billiard saloon, flourishes his cue, drinks his drinks, pays for them with ostentatious parade of his indifference to money, and then sallies out in search of home or of some other place.

The boy of the period is a great reader. He is familiar with "Our Best Society," "The Day's Doings," and all the pictorial literature which draws its embellishments from a solid imagination. He detests reading of a low kind as being unworthy the attention of a modern young gentleman. His taste is too fine and fanciful to be regaled with the vulgar food of useful knowledge. He glances his eye now and then over the leading daily prints, but if he fails to find in them some sensational record of crime, he tosses them away in disdain. He has heard of the library, but deems it of no use to him—it may serve plodding blockheads very well.

The boy of the period is a genius. He is above work, and has a clerkship; but he has no intention of passing his years in the dull routine of a profession, trade, or craft. He is too smart for all that. He needs money, for he has the habit of a spendthrift.

Chance is Protean. Honesty is straightforward, and has a single eye. The boy of the period worships chance, and waits daily at her shrine. At length he sails in; makes a venture, in some form, and luck, the deceiver, at first is on his side. Suddenly luck has turned against him. He fights against luck, but in vain; he loses his money; he is detected, arrested, imprisoned, and punished. Then the boy of the period gets his face into the rogues' gallery, and himself among the criminal classes. Such is a brief outline of the biography which very nearly describes the line of life along which a good many young men are traveling. A little reflection on their part might induce them to choose a better and safer path.

SULPHURIC ACID FOR DESTROYING WEEDS IN LAWNS.—A writer in an English journal suggests the use of ordinary sulphuric acid or oil of vitriol, as an excellent agent for the destruction of weeds on lawns. The difficulty of eradicating such unsightly elements of the lawn is well understood, since to do so satisfactorily requires the removal of a large amount of dirt, producing a corresponding injury to the general appearance. By taking the acid in question, and allowing a few drops to fall into the crown of any obnoxious weeds, it will turn them brown in an instant, and ultimately cause the death of the plant. Great care must of course be taken to prevent any of the acid from falling upon the skin, or any article of clothing; but with ordinary care a large amount of service can be treated in a short time with most excellent results.

RUSSIAN METHOD OF PRESERVING FRUIT.—A method of preserving fruit, quite frequently adopted in Russia, consists in skinning the fruit by sprinkling it with water and adding a little creosote. The fruit is to be packed in wooden boxes, with a layer of the prepared chalk powder of an inch in depth at the bottom. This layer is to be first covered with a sheet of paper, and upon it the fruit is to be laid so as not to touch each other. On the first layer of fruit a sheet of paper is placed, with the powder sprinkled over it, and so on, paper over fruit; upon this another layer of fruit is spread, as before, and the process continued until the box is full. The corners may then be filled with charcoal. If a tight-fitting cover is put on the box, the fruit, it is said, will maintain its freshness for at least a year.

CLASSICAL SCHOOL.
I SHALL open a Classical School on Main Street in the house known as the Campbell House on TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27TH, 1870.

All the ordinary branches of an English education will be taught, besides the Latin, Greek, French, and German languages, and mathematics for enough to prepare boys to enter the junior class of our best colleges. I have satisfactory credentials which I shall be happy to show to any person who may feel an interest in such matters.

Tuition for 40 weeks, seventy-five dollars ($75.00), payable monthly or quarterly in advance.

P. S. I should be glad to teach a night class if could get on charges enough to pay for the trouble.

ICE! ICE! ICE!
I WILL COMMENCE DELIVERING ICE ON THE FIRST DAY OF MAY, and as prepared now to furnish it to consumers at the lowest rates on application at my residence, St. Clair Street north of the State House.
